

Sue Blows was appointed as the Independent Chair of the Redbridge Education Partnership in September 2017. Sue had been at Hatton School and Special Needs Centre for 28 years, 15 of which as Head Teacher. In this role, Sue was committed to supporting the local network of schools across all phases and contributed to the early development of a more formalised partnership as the educational landscape changed. Sue has a track record of working collaboratively with schools and representing them in a range of forums both locally and regionally. Since leaving Hatton Sue has worked as an educational consultant supporting schools in developing leadership capacity at all levels.
